Assistant Bank Cashier Admits Taking $24,000

QUINCY, Ill. (P)—The assistant cashier of the South Side bank of Quincy was free under $7,500 bond today on embezzlement charges after telling his father, the bank cashier, of shortages in his accounts totaling $24,000.

Donald R. Bangert, 34, Quincy, was arrested by FBI agents Thursday. He was arraigned before a police magistrate and was bound over for appearance in Federal District Court at Springfield.

His bond was posted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bangert. The elder Bangert is the bank cashier and a member of the board of directors.

Bank President William Timpe said the younger Bangert "told his dad about taking the money the other morning" and his father immediately informed the bank of the situation.

The FBI said the money apparently had been taken over a period of about 10 years, but so far it had not been determined what the money was used for or how Bangert managed to cover up the shortages.

Timpe said after the elder Bangert informed the bank his son's accounts were rechecked and "the difference" found.

He said he could not explain why the embezzlement had not been discovered by bank examiners who check the bank at least twice a year.

"It's one of those things," he said. "He had charge of the cash and he probably was able to cover it up."

All losses were fully covered by insurance.

May Move Negro Family In

For Sale Sign Near Home of Vice President Nixon Has Capital Abuzz

WASHINGTON (P)—A "for sale" sign nailed to a tree in front of a house on Vice President Richard M. Nixon's street has the capital abuzz today.

Just about everyone is wondering if this is the place a Georgia "resettlement" group is reported to have singled out to move in a Negro family with "10 or 15 kids."

Real estate sources said a widow, Mrs. Mary H. Renshaw, has accepted an option on the impressive English Tudor home. Who took the option to buy it was not disclosed. But she was described as "sick" over the matter.

The impressive, six-bedroom, three-bath, stucco Renshaw house is located at 4341 Forest Lane, N. W., in Washington's rather exclusive Wesley Heights section. Nixon's $75,000 stylish French provincial house, which he bought early this year, is a few doors away at 4308 on the dead-end street.

Interest suddenly concentrated on the street after the white

"American Resettlement Foundation," which said previously it would try to locate southern Negroes in swank northern neighborhoods, announced it had taken "an option on a house in a large American city" near one of the nation's "leading exponents of integration."

The Augusta, Ga., Herald said the option was on a $75,000 house in Nixon's neighborhood. Nixon has strongly backed the 1953 Supreme Court school desegregation ruling.

Real estate advertisements listed the asking price for the Renshaw house at $65,000. They also said it has a library, powder room, maid's room with bath and a two-car garage.

There is one other house on the street up for sale. It belongs to retiring Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, who engineered administration strategy in the Little Rock, Ark., school integration dispute.

But officials said it has not been sold yet.

Ex-Labor Adviser to Eisenhower Paid $15,000 by Beck for 'Advice'

Says Quit Post Because of Teamster Union Corruption

WASHINGTON (P)—Merlyn S. Pitzele, labor adviser to President Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign, testified today Teamster President Dave Beck once paid him $15,000 for "advice" on how to run the union.

He said the money was paid him through Nathan W. Shefferman, labor relations consultant and Beck's personal friend.

Pitzele, who was also chairman of the New York State Mediation Board for some of his time on the Beck-Shefferman payroll, told the Senate Rackets Committee he quit his advisory role in 1955 "when I had my belly full" of the "fester" corruption he found in the Teamsters.

Pitzele has been labor editor of Business Week magazine since 1941. He served as a labor adviser to New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the 1944 and 1948 presidential campaigns.

In 1952, he traveled on the Eisenhower campaign train and contributed to Eisenhower speeches on labor.

Pitzele testified that Beck tried to hire him outright soon after taking over as president of the Teamsters in 1952.

He recalled that Beck at the time was hailed as a strong man who was going to clean up the giant Teamsters Union.

Pitzele said he was summoned into Beck's presence by his old friend, David Kaplan, a former Teamsters Union economist.

Beck, he said, "offered me a job at my own figure with any title, working for the Teamsters Union

He wanted me to take over all publications, improve them and edit them."

"Though this was a flattering offer," the witness said, "I turned it down—not because I felt Mr. Beck was a bad or evil man, but because I did not want to change the direction of my own career."

Economy Needed To Make Up for Higher Costs

Cost of Program Now Totals Half Of Entire Budget

WASHINGTON (P)—The Air Force, determined to keep missile and space procurement programs operating full blast, was forced today into making further sacrifices in less crucial activities.

The cutbacks, coming on top of recent economy reductions, are necessary to make up increased costs in missile-plane purchases of 800 million dollars since last January.

An Air Force spokesman disclosed that the rise, amounting to almost 10 per cent of the entire program, was due to higher labor and material costs. Part also resulted from too low estimates in the budget President Eisenhower submitted to Congress at the beginning of the year.

The cost of the program now totals $9,600,000,000—more than half the entire Air Force budget of $19,200,000,000.

The Air Force announced Thursday night that its "Snark" long-range strategic missile was successfully test fired earlier in the day at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., testing center. The "Snark" is a winged, pilotless bomber destined for eventual use by the Strategic Air Command. It has flown as far as 3,000 miles.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, huddled with his cabinet today for what was expected to be another high-level review of America's course in meeting Russia's challenge in the space-missile era. The meeting followed an extraordinary session Thursday of the National Security Council which presumably dealt with the same problems.

At the same time, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.), chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, raised serious doubts about the wisdom of Eisenhower's proposed plan to share U. S. atomic and weapons secrets with Britain and other NATO nations.

Anderson said the U. S. should "work with them in every possible way." But he wants to make certain no U. S. secrets find their way into Soviet hands.

Follow Earlier Cuts

The new Air Force cutbacks followed a number of economy moves this year. These included elimination of a number of jet fighter and reserve groups, stretch-outs in jet plane and B52 heavy bomber production and a reduction in civilian employment.

Defense officials have approved a three-point plan for making up the 800 million dollar Air Force procurement deficit:

—A further slowdown or cutback in a number of activities to make more funds available for missile and plane purchases.

—Slowing down payments for so-called "cost plus" contracts.

—Addition of $300,000,000 to the Air Force budget for procurement, ordered by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy last Tuesday.

Public Disgrace Begins for Zhukov

Field, Woods Fires Hit Area

BENTON, Ill. (P)—Fires are beginning to worry southern Illinois forestry officials and the three-day deer season which opens today in some counties is not expected to help the situation.

District Forester Martin Anderson said his patrols have spotted and put out some 20 field and woods fires this week . . . most of them in Franklin County.

Twelve of the fires were started by a truck that was hauling a load of smoldering material to use on roads. Debris burning and smokers have accounted for other fires.

Anderson says that with the coming of heavy frosts and the falling of leaves the fire season is on.

Officials of the Shawnee National Forest have asked deer hunters to be careful of their campfires. About 200,000 acres of the forest in southern Illinois is open for deer hunting.

Soviet Publications Condemn Military Leaders; Dispatches Clear Censorship

LONDON (P)—Soviet publications lashed out today at "swagging . . . military leaders" and "apostates and renegades." Western diplomatic sources said it was the start of the public disgrace of Red Army hero Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

The Soviet naval organ Red Fleet called for "decisive condemnation" of "exaltation of individual . . . swaggering . . . military leaders."

The Soviet party newspaper Pravda printed an article noting the "apostates and renegades, right or left wing schismatics and fractionaries" in the party have "invariably met with crushing rebuff."

Dispatches on both articles cleared meticulous Soviet censorship. The censors also passed a line in a dispatch that referred to Zhukov as a "former hero."

The liberal Paris newspaper "Franc Tireur" said the Kremlin was holding up announcement of Zhukov's fate because he refuses to sign a "confession of errors" at party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev's command.

None has come although informed sources said the Communist Party's 133-member Central Committee had made its decision on Zhukov Wednesday. Westerners still expected the announcement within the next few days—or even hours.

Possibly as part of the groundwork for making the announcement, the Soviet News Agency Tass Thursday night distributed a Communist Chinese statement giving unqualified support to Khrushchev's insistence on supremacy of the party over the army.

Zhukov was commander in chief of the Red army as well as defense minister. Western as well as Communist reports have said his downfall was caused by Khrushchev's fear the army was getting more powerful than the party.

Deer Hunters Open Season with a Bang; Kills Reported

The shotgun deer hunting season in Illinois started off with a bang, bang, bang this morning and hunters were coming back into town with their deer.

Glendall and Leonard Butler, brothers from Harrisburg, came home with a young buck weighing about 100 pounds they shot in Pope county. They reported they learned ten had been killed in Pope county at 10 a. m.

A few minutes later Thomas Kesterson of Chicago came to town with a large buck he had killed on government land in Saline county where he was hunting with a companion, Harry Hauhe.

Also bagging a deer this morning was Dwan Fritch of Harrisburg, who went hunting alone in Pope county. It was a young buck.

Fritch got his deer with one shot at 7:05 a. m. and was one of five seen by Fritch.

Another kill was by the Rev. C. G. Friedley Church of God pastor here, and his was killed at 8:10 a. m. near Karbers Ridge in Hardin county.

The deer season will last three days.

Webb-Vaughn
Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight contender Spider Webb, seeking a little more lustre that might get him a shot at the 160-pound crown, fights Willie Vaughn at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The 10-rounder between boxer-puncher Webb of Chicago and left hooker Vaughn of Los Angeles will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 9 p.m. e.s.t.

Both men — Webb, 26, and Vaughn, 24 — are rangy middleweights and skilled boxers who can fight from the upright or bob-and-weave. But the Spider is a long favorite over the unranked middleweight champion of California because of his punch and his ruggedness.

Because of Inflation

Formerly Frugal French People
Becoming Nation of Spendthrifts

(Editor's Note: James H. Bynum, native of Stonefort and former HTHS teacher, is teaching English and journalism in an Army dependent high school at Rochefort, France, and will write his impressions of the area from time to time.)

France is in real trouble and the culprit is inflation.

Not too many years ago the French franc was worth 20c. Now Americans can obtain 420 francs in exchange for one dollar. As far as the French can tell there is no guarantee that the upward spiral will stop there.

Actually neither French nor impartial observers expect the economy to become stabilized, and the French plan their spending accordingly.

Once a frugal and saving people, the French have become a nation of spendthrifts. They convert income immediately into merchandise in an effort to prevent real loss through greater inflation. Twenty dollars deposited in a savings account today may be worth only fifteen dollars tomorrow.

Demain—tomorrow—is obviously a day the Frenchman doesn't anticipate with any great relish—economically.

The remarkable thing about French inflation is the very high prices when spending money and the low wages when earning it. Skilled laborers are in a more defensible position since their unions can demand, and often obtain, wage scales more in proportion to the cost of living.

It is the unskilled laborer who suffers. A French woman applied for a part-time job as maid when we moved into our neighborhood. Her rate: 105 francs per hour—the equivalent of 25c. The work she proposed doing was washing (on a corrugated board).

ironing, and scrubbing and waxing floors. These are not easy tasks at any wage.

The French—outside metropolitan Paris—have always had a high regard for honesty and fair dealing. Inflation is undermining that traditional characteristic. Black markets flourish in everything from franc to chewing gum, American brands.

A shop manager in a garage approached me with a proposition. "You make francs; I make francs," he said in his "few English." I was finally able to figure out that he proposed that I buy American cigarettes in U. S. Army exchanges at $1.20 per carton and he would sell them on the French market at something under the French retail price of 50c per package.

The procedure had every indication of being profitable, but, since it was against both the French and American laws, it wasn't difficult to refuse.

In a sense inflation has been good for the French people. They are more self-sufficient, less dependent on machines and conveniences. From more, forced exercise they are harderier. Though sacrificing much and often, they are a happy lot.

Inflation will never whip the French, for, with their age-old savoir-faire standing them in good stead, they go on growing the world's biggest roses and drinking their wine. They are determined to have lived before they die.

Suspended Bears' Quarterback
Hires Attorney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Famed criminal attorney Jerry Giesler has been retained by suspended Chicago Bears quarterback Ronnie Knox to help settle his dispute with the professional football club.

Giesler admitted Thursday night to CBS West Coast television sportscaster Gil Stratton that he had been hired by Knox. The former UCLA football star failed to appear at practice and was suspended by George Halas, owner of the Bears.

The attorney declined to confirm a report that Knox had a $100,000 suit ready to file against Halas. Giesler stressed that he was representing Ronnie Knox and not the quarterback's outspoken stepfather, Harvey Knox.

Knox had joined the Bears this season but played only a few minutes in a defensive role before his stepfather created a furor. He claimed the club had failed to pay his stepson more than "eating money" for exhibition games.

Yankees Refund
$5,500 Fines
To Six Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees have refunded $5,500 in fines to six players who were involved in a May 16 Copacabana brawl that made headlines and led to the deal that sent Billy Martin to the Kansas City Athletics.

Only two players — Martin and catcher Yogi Berra — have received the money to date but the United Press learned that refund checks are in the mail to Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford, Hank Bauer and Johnny Kucks. Martin, Berra, Mantle, Ford and Bauer were fined $1,000 each and Kucks was fined $500.

The players, celebrating Martin's birthday, hit the headlines (but big) when a New York City delicatessen owner charged that Bauer slugged him during an argument. A $250,000 suit against Bauer was tossed out of court.

Frick Considers Move

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick will consider moving his office to Chicago if New York City remains a one-team major league city for another few years. The chief reason for the shift, should it materialize, is to permit Frick to keep in close contact with players of both leagues regarding the players' pension fund.

Tokyo was shaken by an earthquake in 1923 that killed 150,000 persons and damaged property to the amount of $4,500,000,000.

CAN HE GET OFF THE HOOK?

Iowa-Michigan Game Rated
Tossup; Will Affect Big
Ten Title Race, Rose Bowl

By United Press
College football's stay-at-home fans get a treat Saturday. They can sit by the television set and watch what should be the best game in the country — Iowa at Michigan.

This NBC nationally televised battle of strong defenses, rated a tossup by the oddsmakers, will affect the Big Ten race, the Rose Bowl and Iowa morale.

Since 1924, Michigan has 12 victories and one tie in 13 games with Iowa, an especially bitter pill for Iowa coach Forest Evanshewski who played for Michigan almost two decades ago. Iowa and Ohio State are tied for the conference lead with 3-0 records. Michigan (2-1) must win to stay in the running for the Rose Bowl.

Iowa Has Top Defense
The Iowa defense, best in the nation against rushing, must stop Michigan halfback Jim Pace, leading scorer in the Big Ten. Key-stone of the Iowa attack is Randy Duncan, a polished quarterback who rates with the best in the nation.

The United Press Board of Coaches ranks Iowa third and Michigan 12th. In another meeting between high-ranked teams, Notre Dame is a five-point favorite over Navy. Notre Dame is ranked fifth and Navy is tied for 13th. Notre Dame, whose green sophomores of 1956 have matured into the surprise team of 1957, must stop the passing of Tom Forrestal and the running of Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst. The Navy game touches off a nightmarish month for the Irish who play Michigan State, Oklahoma and Iowa on the following three Saturdays.

Top-ranked Oklahoma, Iowa and Notre Dame all are unbeaten and untied. Oklahoma, winner of 45 straight, hopes to present Bud Wilkinson with his 100th victory as Sooners coach by whipping Kansas State. Oklahoma is a 30-point favorite.

Perfect Records Safe
Among other perfect record teams, Texas A & M is favored by six points over Arkansas in the Southwest Conference, Auburn by eight over Florida in the Southeastern Conference and Dartmouth by three over Yale in the Ivy League.

President Eisenhower will watch the Army-Colgate game at West Point but probably won't get the thrills those two teams provided last year when Army won, 55-46.

Friday night favorites include Miami of Florida by 15 points over Villanova and Boston University by six over George Washington. Holy Cross is the choice over the Quantico Marines in a Sunday game.

Inexperienced Squad Facing Coach
Carroll Belcher at Vienna High School

The Vienna high school basketball team was hit heavily by graduation last spring with seven of the first eight finishing their high school careers.

Coach Carroll Belcher, starting his fourth year as Vienna coach, says "I have some inexperienced seniors and sophomores. If my seniors don't come around, I'll go with sophomores and build for next year."

One player, Donnie Brady, is considered a top notch prospect by Belcher, but Brady is only 5-10 1/2, almost too small for present day basketball.

The Vienna roster lists 22 candidates—six seniors, four juniors and 12 sophomores. Brady, a senior, has two years varsity experience, four other seniors have limited experience and the others are getting their first taste of varsity play.

There also are 15 freshmen working out, so the basketball future at Vienna looks good, but the 1957-58 season is a question mark at present.

The season opens Tuesday, Nov. 19, with Brookport the visiting team. This will be homecoming at Vienna and all graduates of the Vienna high school are invited to make a special effort to get back home for that night.

Urges Prompt Enrollment for Red Cross Course

Mrs. Richard Davenport, Nursing Service chairman for the Saline County Red Cross chapter, announced today that everyone wanting the course, "Care of the Sick and Injured," should enroll as soon as possible.

The class will start Wednesday, Nov. 13. The time was originally announced as 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. but Mrs. Mabel Burton, the instructor, is willing to change the time to 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. if the majority of the people enrolled prefer a night class.

Mrs. Davenport stated that a number of people had called who wanted the course but could not enroll for a day class, so the time of the class would be determined at a later date in accordance with the preference of the majority.

Mrs. Davenport hopes to be able to offer both night and day classes in the near future.

There is no charge for the course. Every student is expected to have a text book which costs 60c. The same text book, "Home Care of the Sick," is used for this new course that was used for the old course, with a supplement added which will be provided by the chapter to anyone who already has a text book.

Call Mrs. Davenport, CL 3-7465.

Strike Ends At Herrin Plant

HERRIN, Ill. (U.P.)—Workers at the Diagraph-Bradley Industries plant at Ordill ended an 11-day strike Thursday by accepting a two-year contract.

The agreement approved by the International Association of Machinists workers gives them wage increases totaling 20 cents over the two-year period—10 cents the first year and 10 the second. They will also receive a seventh paid holiday.

Some 96 workers at the plant struck Oct. 21 when their old contract expired. They originally sought a one-year contract, a 25-cent wage boost and a seventh paid holiday.

The company's first offer was for a 17-cent an hour pay increase over a two year period without provision for the seventh paid holiday.

Production is expected to resume Monday at the plant which manufactures stenciling machines and shipping room equipment and does some work under an Air Force sub-contract.

WORSHIP PERIOD near Anvil rock in the Little Garden of the Gods on the autumn auto tour held last Sunday. L. A. Dearing, of Mt. Auto Tour to Leave Ava Sunday; 750 Visit Little Garden of Gods

A guided tour to Reed's Creek Canyon on Sunday, Nov. 3, will leave Ava at 10 a. m. from Highway 43 and Miller Street. Those coming from the west can meet the group at 10:15 at Campbell Hill at the intersection of Main Street and Highway 43. Harry Killian of Ava, a director of the Jackson County Tourist and Recreation Association, will lead the tour.

The Garden of the Gods, southeast of Harrisburg, was subjected to a peaceful invasion last Sunday by nearly two hundred people in fifty cars who made the fourth and final scenic tour along the Trig Memorial Ozark Trail. This was the largest group ever to visit the Garden. Guiding the tour were L. A. Dearing, Art. LaSalle and A. G. Packwood, all of Mt. Vernon, with assistance from Louis Martin of Benton.

At the noon worship services the group, led by Ralph Chase of Benton, sang "Rock of Ages." The One Hundred and Fourth Psalm was read by L. A. Dearing, who in closing led the group in the "Lord's Prayer." During the period of introductions Wm. Farley, recreational chairman of Southern Illinois Inc., general sponsors of the tour, expressed gratification at the success of the series of tours, which, he declared, have been the means of introducing scores of people to the countless historic and scenic wonders in the Illinois Ozarks Recreational Belt.

Among the special highlights of the tour were the presentation and eating of an immense cake which was provided by the Pankey Baking Company of Harrisburg. On the cake was worked a design with frosting of the Old Stone Face, a deer and the words "Shawnee Hills Recreation." Also, Geo. Hurst of Eldorado told how he had lived in the area when a child and related the legend of the treasure which is supposed to be buried near the Anvil Rock and informed the group about the cave in which there was a man and a woman — in stone, of course. Hurst stated that what is now forest in the Garden area once held six homes and as many farms and once, not too long ago, what is now a tangled wilderness was ploughed fields. Seen today are several abandoned roads — all else is gone.

The group divided and in six separate trips visited such spectaculars as Camel, Anvil, Battleship or Dinosaur rocks, the Camel Driver and his wife, the face in the sky, the Crying Crocodile and several turtle or anvil rocks. The cave containing the man and woman was visited and their existence duly confirmed. Louis Martin presented his discovery of the likeness in stone of Abraham Lincoln, which was easily enough recognizable. Other formations were discovered by the group and appropriately named, which names, no doubt, will be changed by the next group visiting the area.

Announcement was made of a tour for Sunday, Nov. 3, to Reed Hollow in Jackson county. The tour, sponsored by the Ava recreational group, will leave Ava at 10 a. m. and Campbell Hill at 10:15 a. m. Reed Hollow is noted for several historical legends and for numerous fossils of trees which thrived at the beginning of the coal age.

Tours were announced for the Eddyville area on Nov. 10, trips

Arrest Murder Suspect on Centralia Warrant

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Police today arrested Lionel Downey, 23, a railroad worker, on a warrant charging him with the brutal murder of a 77-year-old man.

Capt. Lawrence W. Arning of Centralia brought the warrant to Chicago and was expected to return to Centralia with the suspect later today.

He said Downey was a suspect in the murder-robbery Oct. 4 of Edmond Arnold, Arnold, who lived alone in a shack, frequently loaned money and authorities theorized the slayers believed Arnold had a large amount of money hidden in his home.

Arning said Downey worked at the Illinois Central repair shops at Centralia and disappeared Oct. 3. The officer said Downey admitted making the blackjack used to beat Arnold to death, but denied taking part in the slaying.

Bishop to Speak at Wesley Foundation Cornerstone Laying

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Bishop Charles W. Brashares, Chicago, bishop of the Illinois area of the Methodist church, will speak at the cornerstone laying service Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 6, for a new Wesley Foundation building under construction adjacent to the Southern Illinois University campus in Carbondale.

The ceremony will begin at 3:30 p. m. at the building site, 816 South Illinois Avenue. In addition to Bishop Brashares, program participants for the public meeting will include the Rev. Ronald Seibert, foundation director; the Rev. H. G. Hurley, chairman of the Foundation board of directors and minister of the Carbondale First Methodist church; and the superintendents of the four districts of the Southern Illinois Methodist Church Conference. They are: The Rev. Walter Smith, Olney District; the Rev. Maurice Winn, Harrisburg District; the Rev. W. A. Robinson, Carbondale District; and the Rev. E. M. Dycus, East St. Louis District.

A building fund crusade progress report dinner meeting will be held in the First Methodist church dining room at 5:30 p. m. after the cornerstone laying service, according to Seibert. He says that $215,000 of the building fund goal of $260,500 has been raised in cash and pledges, most of it during a crusade campaign last year. An additional gift of $10,000 toward the building fund is contingent upon the Foundation raising another $35,000 for the building fund to bring it to its original goal for the total building project.

Kefauver Asks Steel Industry To Lower Prices

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), called upon the steel industry today to reduce prices "at least $3 a ton."

Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee now investigating steel prices said neither U. S. Steel nor Bethlehem Steel had shown in appearance before the subcommittee that more than $3 of last July's $6 a ton price increase was due to higher wages.

Even the wage increases of last summer, Kefauver said in a statement, were "offset in considerable part by the declining price of scrap."

Kefauver said the third quarter financial report of U. S. Steel showed a "substantial decline in production" but record earnings.

"In view of the decline in production, it is unlikely that such an excellent profit showing could have been made unless the price increase of last July had been substantially in excess of the wage increase," he said.

He also suggested a price cut would help the economy by allowing steel-using industries to lower prices, sell more goods and maintain purchasing power and employment.

Arrest Four Air Force Sergeants

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Secret Service has arrested two Air Force sergeants for forging more than $100,000 in government checks at Parks Air Force Base, Calif.

The service said the airmen's operations became so big that they opened up a restaurant as a front to dispose of the checks.

It said a preliminary investigation indicated at least 400 checks totalling more than $100,000 were forged. More than 400,000 other checks were being scrutinized to discover the full extent of the scheme.

Arrested and charged with forgery were T. Sgt. Theodore Goldberg, 28, of Louisville, Ky., and S. Sgt. Charles A. Evans, 27, of Dyersburg, Tenn.
